

Chapel Rites Read for Bunch-Smith Ceremony

At the Wayfarers Chapel in Portuguese Bend, Miss Joan Marie Bunch, daughter of Mrs. Marie Bunch, 1508 W. 219th St., Torrance, pledged her vows to Merl Andrew Smith.

Lawrence Bunch, uncle of the bride, escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Gardena.

A gown of embroidered Chantilly lace over ice blue taffeta was chosen by the bride. Fashioned with long pointed sleeves and a Queen Anne collar, the bodice ended in a full skirt that had a chapel train of ruffles. A tiny crown held her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of lavender orchids encircled by white carnations.

Gowned in coral chiffon and carrying pink and white carnations, Miss Hilda Hasel was honor attendant.

Misses Joan and Bonnie Koepke, wearing mint green net over taffeta, were the bridesmaids. Yellow and white organza dress, Donald Tyler was ringbearer.

Best man was Elmer Smith, brother of the groom, and ushers were Edward Spears, Baloo Altman, Richard, Hammond and James Turner.

The Reverend Kenneth Knox performed the double ring ceremony.

Following a reception at the Moose Hall in Torrance where Mrs. Peggy Spears registered the guests, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon.

Mrs. Merl Smith graduated from Narbonne High School and is now employed by the Pacific Telephone Co.

Merl Andrew Smith, a graduate of Banning High School, is employed by Bethlehem Steel.

Upon return from their wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Torrance.

Susan L. Carter Pledges Vows to Dennis McCosh

Wearing a candlelight satin, pearl embroidered gown, Miss Susan Lynn Carter and Dennis I. McCosh pledged their vows when Dr. Albert F. King officiated at their nuptials recently at the Neighborhood Church in Palos Verdes Estates.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Carter, 21506 Scannell Ave., Torrance, was lovely in her gown fashioned with scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The full skirt fell into a chapel train. The gown was designed and made by Mrs. Amelia White. Her fingertip veil was held by a headpiece of seed pearl design.

When her father escorted her to the altar, she carried a spray of gardenias on a white Bible that once belonged to her great aunt, Carrie Lou Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McCosh of Walnut Creek, California, are parents of the groom.

Mrs. Jay Edwards, sister of the bride, wore a beige organza over taffeta dress as matron of honor.

The bridesmaids Mrs. Jerry Reynolds and Miss Clara Nordhagen, wore dresses identical to the matron of honor, and carried bouquets of beige and rust Chrysanthemums.

Lisa Mackenzie was flower girl for the afternoon ceremony.

Best man for the groom was Richard Zeylmaker. Ushers were Craig Carter, brother of the bride; Arthur Webb, and Richard Jones.

Mrs. Harold Carter chose a grey taffeta and chiffon dress and a purple hat for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Kenneth McCosh wore a royal blue dress with black accessories.

After a reception where Miss Suzie Edwards registered the guests, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in northern California.

Local Women Attend Conference Conclave

Local members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Torrance who attended the recent meeting at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel were Mmes. Lucille Lewellen, president; Florence Petrovich, Ruth Shrum, Mary Snow, and Maxine Hahn.

Sierra Mar District conference was held at the Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood with Mrs. Fannie Hardy, national president, and Miss Katherine Peden, first vice president of national, attending.

"Today's Challenge for the Business and Professional Woman" was the theme of the session.

Lecture forums were offered in the afternoon. Among the topics discussed were: "Human Engineering," "Private Enterprise," and "Community and World Affairs."

Dr. Robert Goodell, associate professor of business administration of USC, was a guest speaker.

"A new life cycle of the working woman has been set-up from research studies conducted at USC," the professor stated. "At the age of 18, a woman leaves school; at 20 she marries; her last child will be born when she is 27; her last child will enter school when she is 32; her last child will marry when she is 48; her husband will pass away when she is 60; and she will pass away when she is 78 years old," Dr. Goodell revealed the research findings.

One third of the working population are women and by 1970 fifty percent of the workers will be women, according to the USC research series.

Gary Peterson Weds North Carolina Miss

Miss Anne Heywood Fountain became the bride of Gary Okey Peterson, son of Mrs. Lloyd Cook of Torrance at St. John's Episcopal Church in Wilmington, North Carolina.

Miss Heywood wore a gown of her own design of hand clipped Chantilly lace fashioned with an all tiered chapel train. Her halo veil was attached to a heart shaped queen's crown of lace twisted with pearls and sequins. She carried a prayer book used by her great-aunt topped with a white orchid and showered with tuberoses.

Anna Lynn Chapman of Wilmington, North Carolina, was maid of honor and she wore a sheath of autumn gold lace over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums with matching streamers.

O. M. Peterson, Lansing Michigan, served his son as best man. Ushers were Robert Parker, a cousin of the bride, and Jerome James, the bride's uncle.

Gary Peterson, a graduate of Torrance High School, attended El Camino Junior College. He is serving as a paratrooper with the United States Army at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

He resided with his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Cook, 1766 W. 244th St., Torrance, before entering the United States Army in 1959.
